Soviet Halts Move To Put U.N. In Laos

Mission Would Aid Battle Against Communist Threat

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The Soviet Union Friday torpedoed diplomatic efforts to put a U. N. mission in the Asian kingdom of Laos on a permanent basis. Laos has said such a mission would help counter a threat of Communist aggression from neighboring North Viet Nam. Said Unlawful

A Soviet press release distributed at the United Nations denounced as unlawful any plans to station U. N. representatives in Laos permanently. It said the consequences would be "grave to the cause of peace in Southeast Asia and throughout the world."

Western diplomats, including the United States, were uncertain as to their next step. They had been seeking to establish a U. N. presence either through action by Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld or the U. N. Security Council.

Diplomatic sources said they did not expect any move from Hammarskjöld in view of the Soviet opposition.

They added that the Soviet Union would undoubtedly veto any proposal in the Council for a permanent mission in Laos. In that event Western diplomats would have to take the issue to the 82-nation General Assembly.

No decision was anticipated until the Council's four-nation subcommittee issues its first report—probably sometime early next week.

No Recommendations

Informed sources said the report would detail the activities of the representatives of Italy, Argentina, Japan and Tunisia in Laos, but contain no conclusions or recommendations.

These sources said that from the facts set out in the report there would be an indication of Communist aid to the rebel forces in Laos, but no evidence of aggression.

Police Probing Gangland Style Slaying Of Man

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Detectives investigating the gangland style slaying of a suburban Shaker Heights man Friday said the victim, who had underworld connections, may have been killed in a gambling racket feud.

Michael Sperrazzo, 59, was shot to death shortly before dawn in what police described as a "carefully planned slaying, probably carried out by a professional killer." Detectives said the killer, apparently familiar with the victim's habit of returning home in the early morning hours, hid behind a row of bushes as Sperrazzo drove his car into the garage.

As Sperrazzo walked toward his house, the assassin jumped up and fired point-blank into his stomach with a .32 caliber revolver. The dying man lunged at his assailant and struggled briefly before collapsing. The killer fired two more shots into Sperrazzo's head and fled.

The victim's wife, Lena, 49, awakened by her husband's car, and several neighbors, witnessed the killing. However, they were unable to provide any solid clues.

Police said a report of a black late-model auto speeding away after the slaying was the only concrete clue.

Hard Storms Hit Throughout West

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Large sections of the West were hit hard Friday by stormy weather that caused deaths by drowning, smashed property, made highway travel hazardous, and spread a blanket of snow over the mountains and plains.

A snowstorm that left a covering as much as eight inches deep at lower elevations began moving slowly eastward and southward from Colorado Friday afternoon.

Freezing weather was predicted. Two children drowned in flash floods in central Arizona. In some sections of the state, the floods were the worst since 1951.

In Utah, catastrophic winds howled off the Wasatch Mountains, tearing roofs off houses and turning highway freight trucks on their sides.

Crashing trees knocked out power and telephone lines. U.S. Highways 89 and 91 were closed for 75 miles in the northern section of Utah.

Ike's War Leadership Criticized

Played Golf In Crisis Says Field Marshal Alanbrooke

LONDON (AP) — Britain's World War II military chief, in secret diaries made public Friday, said Gen. Eisenhower played golf instead of running the war at a crucial stage of the Allied drive in Europe.

The statement is in the second installment of the diaries of Field Marshal Viscount Alanbrooke, chairman of the British Chiefs of Staff at the time. His diaries and correspondence form the basis of an explosive book, "Triumph in the West," which goes on sale here Monday. As in the first installment in 1957, Alanbrooke contended Eisenhower's strong point was charm rather than military ability.

Alanbrooke wrote that in November 1944 there was a "very unsatisfactory state of affairs in France with no one running the land battle."

On Golf Links

"Eisenhower, though supposed to be doing so, was on the golf links at Rheims (France)—entirely detached and taking practically no part in running the war."

Matters got so bad, Alanbrooke said at the time, that a deputation of Maj. Gen. Sir John Whitley, a senior British officer on Eisenhower's staff, and U.S. Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith and others decided to tackle the supreme Allied commander.

They "went up to him to tell him that he must get down to it and run the war," Alanbrooke wrote.

A request Friday by Washington newsmen for White House reaction to Alanbrooke's statements drew a blank from President Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty.

Has No Comment

"I don't even have a no comment," Hagerty replied.

American leadership as a whole and Gen. George C. Marshall, U.S. Army chief of staff, drew critical comment from Alanbrooke, but he had the highest praise for Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur, the Pacific commander.

"MacArthur was the greatest general and the best strategist that the war produced," the Briton wrote. "He certainly outshone Marshall, Eisenhower and all other American and British generals, including Field Marshal Lord Montgomery."

One of the main themes of the book, compiled from Alanbrooke's private papers by Sir Arthur Bryant, is that shortcomings in American leadership threw away a chance to end the European war in 1944.

Alanbrooke puts much of the blame on Eisenhower, whom he pictures as a poor strategist operating in fear of the U.S. Chiefs of Staff.

Eisenhower's decision in August 1944 to take personal command of the Allied armies in northern France, Alanbrooke predicted in his diaries, "is likely to add another three to six months on to the war."

Splits His Forces

The diaries went on: "He straightaway wants to split his forces, sending an American contingent toward Nancy whilst the British Army Group moves along the coast. If the Germans were not as beat as they are this would be a fatal move."

At the beginning of September, Eisenhower's intelligence staff reported the German army in the West was "no longer a cohesive force." Organized resistance under the control of the German high command, it added, "is unlikely to continue beyond Dec. 1, 1944, and . . . it may end even sooner."

But, said Alanbrooke, Eisenhower followed the "Civil War strategy" of having everybody attacking all the time all along the front, instead of concentrating on the knockout blow in one sector while the enemy was reeling. He said the result was that the advance bogged down for the winter.

U.S. Will Close Moroccan Bases

Proposals For Withdrawal Offered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States announced Friday its willingness to close down four strategic air bases and a naval base in the northwest African kingdom of Morocco.

The State Department disclosed that various proposals for arranging the withdrawal of U. S. forces from Morocco have now been presented to the government of King Mohamed V.

These call for removal by stages of the base personnel over a period of years. There are about 8,000 to 9,000 American officers and men in the country. With their dependents they make a total of around 15,000 Americans stationed there.

Given To Minister

The proposed withdrawal plans were presented to Prime Minister Abdullah Ibrahim during conversations he held here two weeks ago with President Eisenhower, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and other high U.S. officials.

The American proposals are a response to Moroccan demands for the United States to evacuate the bases.

The issue of withdrawal has been a hot one since the country obtained its independence in 1956.

One of the factors involved so far as the United States is concerned is the effect of abandonment of the bases on Morocco's economy. The American forces and their dependents spend an estimated 40 million dollars a year in the country.

For this and other reasons it is understood here the Moroccan government, which is considered friendly to the United States anyway, will be in no haste to force withdrawal of U.S. forces. A gradual removal would permit economic adjustments to lessen the impact.

Cost Of Millions

The bases were developed on a crash basis at a cost of millions of dollars in 1950-51 after the outbreak of the Korean War.

At that time the strategic airpower of the United States was built around the medium-range B47. In recent years the Strategic Air Force has been centered around the B52 long-range bomber and the Moroccan bases have become less vital to the Allied defense system.

The bases would still be useful, however. In war with the Soviet Union, B52s would be launched against Russian targets, then head for the nearest friendly base because their fuel supplies would be insufficient to take them back to continental U.S. fields.

Hal Grayson, Former Band Leader, Dies

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Hal Grayson, who skidded from fame as one of the nation's top band leaders in a long battle with alcohol, died of natural causes Friday in a hotel room. He was 51.

Grayson was born May 31, 1908, in Los Angeles. He appeared at the largest hotels in the country from 1932 to 1944 and appeared in movies for Warner Brothers.

Among stars Grayson helped on their way to the top were vocalists Betty Grable, Martha Tilton and Shirley Ross. Orchestra leader Stan Kenton also was a member of his band.

His downhill trail led through a couple of dozen arrests on drunk charges and he spent various periods in private or public sanitariums and hospitals in efforts to overcome his addiction.

Hurricane's Death Toll In Mexico May Hit 1,500

By JIMMIE S. PAYNE

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico feared Friday night the death toll may reach 1,500 on the hurricane and flood battered Mexican Pacific Coast.

Survivors are being plagued by swarms of scorpions dislodged from nests uncovered by the violent destruction of adobe houses.

Even now the full picture of disaster and the painful aftermath of Tuesday's great blow is incomplete and each additional detail adds to an appalling panorama of misery.

The stricken area was still isolated except for flights of light planes. Bridges, highways and railroads were destroyed by the storm.

Hunger and the threat of pestilence and disease brought new problems for survivors and rescue workers.

The mining town of Minatitlan was all but buried under earth and rock slides from the surrounding mountains that took the hurricane's full force. The port of Manzanillo was next hardest hit.

Colima state, heart of the stricken region, buried more of its dead and welcomed a trickle of relief supplies. Dazed survivors also had to keep watch against the scorpions.

"Thousands of people have been stung and need inoculations," said a report from Gov. Chavez Carrilom. "Scorpions are everywhere."

The known death toll neared 500. The task of recovering bodies and burying them proceeded across an area slightly larger than New Jersey.

Consignments of food, clothing and medicine were air-dropped around the clock by all available planes and helicopters, but the supplies were far from sufficient to relieve privation in Colima and neighboring Jalisco state.

Injunction Appeal Case To Be Heard

Oral Arguments Scheduled Tuesday By Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court dashed government hopes Friday for an early end to the 108-day-old steel strike by agreeing to review a lower court's order that would send 500,000 steelworkers back to the mills for 80 days.

The action was a victory for the Steelworkers Union which challenged the back-to-work order on constitutional and other grounds.

It was a defeat for the Justice Department which had pressed the court to uphold the injunction, issued by a Pittsburgh district judge on Oct. 21 under national emergency machinery of the Taft-Hartley law. The injunction was upheld last Tuesday by an appeals court in Philadelphia, and the union carried its fight to the Supreme Court.

Oral Arguments

Acting in a brief order, the high court called for oral arguments next Tuesday. It kept in suspension the back-to-work order until it finally disposes of the case. It directed further that all legal briefs be filed by noon on Monday.

The upshot of the high court's ruling is that the steel strike—which has idled more than 800,000 workers—will keep going into next week, at least until the Supreme Court renders its decision.

In its appeal papers, the union fired a broadside at the legal underpinning of the Taft-Hartley law's strike-ending machinery, in use for the past 12 years.

Blasting back, the Justice Department said the union's arguments are "clearly without merit" and that "there is no need for further review by this court."

In a 28-page petition, union counsel Arthur J. Goldberg said the case raises "questions of the utmost gravity" concerning "the scope of the district court's powers and discretion under the act, the nature of the proof required to support the findings as to peril to the national health and safety which the district court is required to make, the kinds of disputes which the act may properly be said to cover, and the constitutional validity of the entire scheme."

As for the 80-day "cooling off" period that would be enforced under the injunction, the union said this would avail nothing. This was an apparent reference to the lack of any further government weapons to prevent resumption of the strike if it is not settled during the enforced truce.

Asks For Extension

In asking the high court to review the case, the union asked also that it extend a six-day stay, or suspension of, the order, granted by an appeals court in Philadelphia last Tuesday. The appeals court allowed this delay when it upheld the back-to-work order issued by Federal District Court Judge Herbert Sog in Pittsburgh on Oct. 21. The stay is good until Monday.

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers, acting for the government, did not directly oppose the temporary delay sought by the union.

But his petition hit hard on the point that the case should be handled speedily because of "a national emergency which should be terminated as soon as possible."

The union took the position the government had failed to prove there was a danger to national health or safety growing out of the 108-day-old steel strike.

Truman Denies "Loser" Remark

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—Harry S. Truman said Friday he had not pegged Adlai Stevenson as a "loser" for the upcoming Democratic presidential nomination.

At the same time the former president said the Democrats have many candidates and they are "all good."

His comments followed publication of a statement by Jack Matthews of Houston, president of the Texans for Stevenson Clubs, that Truman told him, "You're backing a loser."

Matthews said Truman also had told him, "You're going to get beat," and "when asked by whom, the former president had replied 'me.'"

The Stevenson backer said the exchange took place Oct. 18 at a Dallas breakfast for party leaders.

"I never made any such statements," Truman said. "I did say that we had so many candidates we didn't know what to do with them and they were all good."

Coast Guard Dragging Lake For Jurist

CHICAGO (UPI) — The U.S. Coast Guard began dragging a stretch of Lake Michigan's cold, gray waters Friday in search of a federal appeals court judge who disappeared four days ago.

Divers were also standing by to enter the lake at a point of Chicago's South Side in fears that Judge W. Lynn Parkinson, 57, had somehow fallen into the water and drowned.

A sedate blue-black Homburg found on the beach pinpointed the search area.

The Homburg was found Thursday by a striking steelworker bent on fishing in the lake off 63rd Street, far from the judge's usual haunts in the city's near-North Side area.

The hat was identified as the same which Parkinson clapped on his head at 4 p.m. Monday with the announcement that he was knocking off work to get a haircut and buy a birthday present for his wife.

A 20-man Chicago police detail working as a team with FBI agents, have traced the judge's movements for a few hours more—to a tavern where he stopped for two drinks, to an overpass where he fell and broke the handle of his umbrella, and to the shopping arcade of the Drake Hotel, where he was last seen, apparently ill and shaken, at 6:45 p.m.

Detectives and agents checked a half dozen reports that Parkinson had been seen in Indiana cities where he had practiced law and served as judge before his promotion to the federal bench. None of the reports led to the judge.

Detective Chief John Ascher said "we'll continue searching for clues, but I'm afraid we're going to find that he fell in the lake. It's only a theory, but it's the best theory we have."

Acting on Ascher's request, the Coast Guard dispatched a 10-foot skiff to drag the shallow waters along the shore off 63rd Street. If the search there failed to turn up a clue, the guardsmen said, a 30-foot craft would start dragging deeper waters and divers would be called in.

Remaining was the earlier theory that Parkinson, plagued in recent weeks by low blood pressure and depression, had suffered an attack of amnesia and was wandering someplace in the city or in his native Indiana.

His daughter, Mrs. John D. Southworth, clung to this belief. "I feel that he's wandering somewhere and that his mind is muddled," she said.

Tawes Outlines His Work Load

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Tawes complained mildly Friday that there is much more work in being governor of Maryland than the duties prescribed by the State constitution.

He outlined the duties of the State's chief executive in a speech prepared for an Almas Temple luncheon here.

"The governor," Tawes said, "has little time to spare, has very little leisure."

"But of course it is a great honor and high privilege to serve the people in the capacity of chief executive," he added. "I say without reservation that I am enjoying it."

Tawes noted "it is not written into law that the governor becomes the head of the political party which elected him, but such is the case. He is the titular head of the party, and if he is to be a competent and effective executive he must almost exercise actual control of it."

"So," Tawes said, "when the head of state, or any other person elected to public office, 'plays politics,' as the saying is, it should be remembered that he is doing no more than performing a function in the science and art of government."

Tawes also noted it is not written anywhere that the governor must see people in his office, meet the press, go to parties and dinners, make speeches, dedicate cornerstones, issue proclamations and the such.

A governor who did not do these things, however, would be a poor governor, he said.

Former Advisor To Truman Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles M. Irelan, former U.S. attorney and onetime legal adviser to former President Truman, died Friday. He was 54.

He died of a heart attack in his home in nearby Brookville, Md. Irelan, general counsel of the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission, was U.S. attorney in Washington from 1951 to 1953. He was an adviser in the Truman Administration before that.

He also had served as special assistant to the U.S. attorney general and at one time was an Orphans Court judge in Montgomery County, Md.

He was a native of Washington.

Former Judge Of Baltimore Court Succumbs

BALTIMORE (AP) — Eugene O'Dunne, a colorful and controversial lawyer and judge who spent about 20 years on the bench, died Friday at Ogunquit, Maine.

The 84-year-old Baltimorean had been living with his wife in the New England town since late in 1958.

Judge O'Dunne retired in June, 1945, when he became 70 — the age limit for Maryland judges. Two days later he was back in the courts as a practicing lawyer. He retired from active practice in 1953.

Several years later he became a director of public relations for Liquors Associates of Maryland, an organization of wholesale and retail liquor dealers.

The jurist was born June 22, 1875 in Tucson, Ariz., where his father was chief justice of the territory. He came to Baltimore to enter the University of Maryland Law School and received his law degree in 1900.

He spent some time in South America, and returned to Baltimore in 1903 to become active in politics and public life.

Many of his recommended judicial reforms became law. These included abolishment of minimum penalties in criminal cases, leaving sentences to the discretion of trial judges, and the establishment of the People's Court for handling small civil actions.

Gov. Albert Ritchie appointed him a judge of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore in 1926 upon the death of Judge W. Stuart Symington. Within a year, he was elected for the full 15 year term. He was reelected to a new 15 year term in November, 1941 but retired less than four years later.

His first wife, Elsie M. Reardon, died in 1935 and he married the former Mrs. Helen Keep in 1950. He is survived by four children. Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Two Men Cited For Bravery

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An uncle and cousin of a 3-year-old Baltimore boy were cited Friday by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission for rescuing him from the third floor of a burning building.

The commission announced its bronze medal award for Joseph Carroll Hopkins, 39-year-old portrait artist and uncle of Carroll Francis Hopkins Jr., and for James Hopkins Berger, 18-year-old student and cousin of the youngster.

They were honored for the rescue of the boy from his blazing home last Nov. 15.

The Carnegie citation describes the uncle's return to the 25-room dwelling occupied by all principals in the rescue and his attempt to carry the child to safety.

Driven back by heat and smoke when he tried to make his way downstairs with his nephew, he returned to the bedroom and was soon joined by Berger.

As Berger took the boy from his crib, Hopkins crawled through a window and onto a sloping roof for fresh air but slipped and fell 29 feet to the ground, suffering multiple fractures.

Berger climbed onto the roof with the boy in his arms and jumped. Neither he nor the boy was injured in the leap, but Berger was hospitalized for seven days with burns of the head and hands.

Hopkins, besides the injuries received in his fall, also suffered burns of the head and one hand in the rescue operation.

Land Crippled Plane

HONOLULU (UPI)—Nine crew members nursed their crippled twin-engine Navy seaplane to a safe landing along a sea runway at Pearl Harbor Thursday night. The plane, a Martin Marlin P3M anti-submarine patrol bomber, flew the last 400 miles to Hawaii from Midway Island with its port engine out.

The plane had been tried to land at French frigate Shoal north of the Hawaiian Islands, but could not because of rough waters. It made the flight to Hawaii at an altitude of about 1,000 feet.

Judge Refutes Charges By Staff Doctors

CAMBRIDGE (AP) — A Circuit Court judge Friday dismissed a complaint brought by staff doctors against the administrator of Cambridge-Maryland Hospital.

The physicians had charged Administrator Harold P. Coston was incompetent and had encroached on the rights and duties of the medical staff. The board of directors was also criticized for alleged "illegal and dangerous policies."

In dismissing the complaint filed last July, Judge W. Laird Henry advised: "If individuals in either group are unwilling or unable to cooperate, these individuals should, for the good of the whole, get out of the picture."

Judge Henry said the board was the final authority in managing the hospital. He added that in the absence of fraudulent and illegal acts, the court could not be expected to substitute its judgment for that of the board.

There is a difference, the judge held, between a doctor's right to "treat a patient as he sees fit, and his right to practice in the hospital, which is subject to the board's will."

"The hospital was not built to provide special privileges to doctors or anyone else who may wish to obey the rules or not, or who may wish to have discharged an administrator whom they personally do not like."

All 19 doctors and dentists signed the 10-page petition asking the Circuit Court to define rights and duties of the administrator and the staff doctors. They also requested that Coston and the directors be prevented from "encroaching on and in anywise interfering with the rights, privileges, duties and obligations" of the medical staff.

A 27-page answer by Coston and the board denied the allegations. The answer praised Coston for raising standards of the hospital since he came here six years ago and with getting the institution accredited. Coston obtained a master's degree in public health at Johns Hopkins University in 1952.

Beer Sales Are Probed

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — The Washington County Liquor Board announced Friday it is investigating the sale of beer by county license holders to teen-agers from nearby Pennsylvania.

The board said it would ask co-operation of Pennsylvania authorities and action would be taken when all facts are developed.

The investigation was touched off by the death Sept. 27 of 16-year-old Thomas M. Marker of Waynesboro, Pa. Marker died of injuries received when his car crashed on a road across the Pennsylvania line.

At an inquest the verdict was Marker met his death through intoxication and reckless driving.

Allen Heller, chairman of the Washington County board, said information was supplied that 10 or 11 teen-agers bought three cases of beer from a Washington County dealer and they held a party. It was after that Marker was killed.

PSC Authorizes Railroad Shutdown

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Public Service Commission Friday authorized the Pennsylvania Railroad to abandon four Saturday trains between Baltimore and Washington and Baltimore and Wilmington.

The railroad had asked to drop the service because increased costs exceeded revenue.

Gains in the steels ran to around 3 or better in Granite City and Simmonds Saw, 2 in Youngstown, and 1 or more in Lukens and Harco. U. S. Steel firmed as did Bethlehem.

Trading declined to 3,560,000 shares from 3,890,000 shares the day before. A total of 1,206 issues crossed the tape, three less than on Thursday, and 427 advanced, 481 declined, and 228 held unchanged. New highs for the year were set by 24 issues, while 37 touched new lows.

Studebaker-Packard again was the most active issue traded with

Which of these Babies is J. D.?

This is the nursery of a large metropolitan hospital. Six times a day these precious bundles visit their happy mamas. And every night their proud papas gape at them through the glass. Nurses watch over them constantly. Doctors examine them daily.

But the statistics in the files of the police department cast a black shadow over this innocent scene. For one of these babies is J.D.

J.D. is short for a juvenile delinquent. And from police records and census figures we can estimate the proportion of new-born infants who will become juvenile delinquents in ten to twenty years. The one factor that threatens the accuracy of our calculations is that juvenile delinquency is increasing.

There are just two ways to deal with the problem. One is to enlarge our jails. The other is to give every child's spiritual well-being the same thorough attention that this hospital gives his physical well-being.

Is yours a church-going family? Is yours a religious home?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Soft Drink Tax Repeal To Be Requested

Gov. Underwood To Make Request

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—State Tax Commissioner Donald Carman said Friday Gov. Cecil H. Underwood would ask the 1960 Legislature to repeal the controversial soft drink tax extension.

"There is a question as to whether we are able to enforce the tax extension equitably to all people or whether we are hitting some and not others," Carman said. "Taxes are unpopular to begin with and when you have one as unpopular as this one it makes it difficult to administer."

Carman said he did not think the department would suffer much by repealing the extension, but said personnel used in its administration "could be diverted to more fruitful channels."

Soft drinks tax director Paul L. Brothers said during the 12-month period after the extension was enacted Feb. 5, 1958, the department had collected $788,470 from the sale of soft drinks and syrup stamps. He said this represented an increase of $312,462 over the previous 12-month period, about half the estimated yield from the extension alone.

However, Carman said this increase can not be attributed entirely to the extension because collections include tax money which would have been collected without the new tax.

It's not possible to estimate what percentage of that increase was due to the extension, he said. During the fiscal year 1958-59 the tax brought in $884,454, an increase of $440,947, over the fiscal year 1956-57 and $264,651 over the 1957-58 fiscal year, Carman said. Similarly, these increases include collections from materials taxable even without the extension.

During the first three months of this fiscal year, the sale of soft drinks and syrup stamps brought in $298,540, an increase of $461,027, over the same period last year, and $165,393 over the first three months of 1956-57 fiscal year.

Parsons Couple Will Confer With Governor

Isners Still Seek Foster Child

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Forest and Edith Isner of Parsons, Tucker County, will meet next Wednesday with Gov. Cecil H. Underwood in an effort to gain custody of a three-year-old girl.

The couple received the child from the Department of Public Assistance when she was seven days old under a foster-parent agreement. The Isners were to return the child to the DPA when it found someone to permanently adopt her.

The agency rejected adoption of the child by the Isners, contending in part that they were too old. They are in their 40s.

The foster-home contract was voided on a technicality by the Tucker County Circuit Court in June, 1958, but sustained by the State Supreme Court Oct. 6.

Several Parsons women met with Underwood and DPA director Thomas R. Egbert earlier this week to plead for the Isners. They also conferred with State Atty. Gen. W. W. Barron.

Mrs. Isner said she planned to take Rosemary with her when she and her husband meet with the governor.

County Boosts Male Cleaning Workers' Pay

A resolution raising the pay of male cleaning employees at the County Infirmary $300 a year was approved unanimously by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday.

The resolution, introduced by Commissioner William A. Wilson and seconded by Commissioner John T. Mason, noted that the male cleaning employees have been classified in Grade 9 of the County Civil Service regulations through inadvertence.

For purpose of pay, they were reclassified in Grade 7. In Grade 9 they had a starting pay of $1,600 and a maximum of $2,200. In Grade 7 they will receive $1,900 as starting pay and $2,500 as a maximum.

Harry T. Skelly, county roads supervisor, asked that John W. Marshall, a truck driver, be allowed a six-month leave of absence effective November 9 so that he can go to Indiana to help an ill brother-in-law in the operation of heavy equipment.

The commissioners referred this matter to the County Civil Service Commission.

Family Seeks $12,500 Claim

Three damage suits seeking a total of $12,500 from Goldsmith-Black Inc., 316 Bow Street, were filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court as a result of a collision between an automobile and a truck on State Route 51 at the Brice Hollow Road two months ago.

Mrs. Viola May Allen, RFD 4, who was driving the automobile, and her husband, William V. Allen, sued for $5,000 each. Another $2,500 was sought by Janet Allen, their 11-year-old daughter, by her father and next friend. All three suits were filed by Attorney William L. Wilson.

The suits all stated that Mrs. Allen was driving east on the Oldtown Road about 10:45 a. m. August 28. She asserted that she came to a stop at the intersection of Brice Hollow Road, saw nothing coming and began to turn left onto the side road.

The Allen car was struck on the right side by a truck owned by Goldsmith-Black Inc. and operated by James B. Stoop, who was traveling west on Route 51, the suits stated.

Mrs. Allen contended that her injuries included contusions of the abdomen and back, bruises and abrasions of the left knee and leg. Her 11-year-old daughter sustained lacerations of the left leg and foot, bruises of the right eye and right forearm and lacerations of the forehead, the declaration said.

Mr. Allen sued for hospital and medical expenses incurred as a result of the accident and for loss of his wife's services.

Loch Lomond, largest of the Scottish lakes, is 23 miles long and five miles across.

ST. PAUL'S WINDOW DESIGN — This is one of nine specially designed windows which will be installed at the new St. Paul's Lutheran Church before the formal dedication of the building November 22. All the windows combine Biblical references with local history.

New Church Will Have Unusual Window Designs

The themes of the Epistles of Paul and some highlights of Cumberland's history will find a meeting place in nine windows for the new St. Paul's Lutheran Church when the church is formally dedicated November 22.

Rev. John F. Sammel, pastor of St. Paul's, has received facsimiles of the specially designed windows from the Baut Studio at Forty Fort, Pa.

The design of each window is based on research by Rev. Mr. Sammel into the basic themes of Paul's letters, and into the development of Cumberland.

Each window is designed to express the spirit of Paul's life and his teachings. Intervened into each design is a local reference.

Typical is the window shown above. At the top is the Creation. Immediately below is Paul at Athens, and then Christ presenting the keys to Peter after his profession. At the bottom is Martin Luther at the Diet of Worms. In the left corner are the pulpit of the Lutheran church built in Cumberland in 1842, the second to be raised here; and the altar of the old St. Paul's Church, built in 1894.

Other windows show similar blending of Biblical and local history. Paul and Luther appear in the same designs with George Washington, General Edward Braddock, the British flag and the Maryland flag, the Toll House, the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal and Cumberland's two railroads. One design even shows the present church during construction.

The bell tower will house another item from Cumberland's early history — the church bell used for the first Lutheran church built here, in 1794.

The bell has been in continuous use since it first hung in a tree outside the original log church building. It was preserved when old St. Paul's was torn down this year, and has been installed in the tower of the new church. It will now be electrically rung instead of hand rung.

Rev. Mr. Sammel will officiate at the dedication service November 22. Rev. Dr. J. Frank Fife of Baltimore, president of the Maryland Synod, United Lutheran Church in America, will participate, and the sermon will be given by Rev. Dr. F. Eppling Reinartz of New York, secretary of the United Lutheran Church in America.

At 10:30 a. m., before the dedication service, William A. Douglas, builder, and J. Alfred Hamme, York, Pa., architect, will present the keys to Charles L. Kopp, chairman of the building committee, on the church lawn.

Invitation Wrong

NORTHFIELD, Vt. (UPI)—Rep. Francis Walter (D-Pa.) said Friday President Eisenhower's invitation to Russian Premier Khrushchev to visit the United States was "morally and tactically" wrong. In a speech prepared for the Norwich University student body, the chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities called Khrushchev a representative of "a movement which has destroyed more souls than any force unleashed on mankind since the dawn of time."

ASC Booklet Gives Outline Of Activities

Soil And Water Conservation Cited

A 1958 summary of various programs as administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee of Allegany County has been compiled in a booklet, Elizabeth A. Hoover, local ASC office manager, announced yesterday.

In the agricultural conservation program designed to assist farmers in performing soil and water conservation practices, such practices were carried out on 143 of the 864 farms in the county.

On these farms a total of $24,708 was earned as assistance in performing the following practices:

A total of 295 acres was seeded to permanent cover; lime was applied on 1,464 acres; contour strip-cropping was established on 66 acres; forest trees were planted on 59 acres; pasture improved on 853 acres; ponds for livestock water install on 10 farms.

Other Improvements

Also forestry improved on 81 acres; sod waterways established on three farms; diversion terraces constructed on three farms; open drainage ditches built to drain 49 acres; tile drainage ditches made to drain 31 acres; an irrigation dam constructed on one farm and cover crops established on 149 acres.

Miss Hoover pointed out that in the soil bank program, Allegany County had 25 agreements which retired 233 acres of wheat. A total of $5,061 in payments were made on these agreements. Under this phase of the program payments were made, to retire for one year, land from the production of wheat.

In connection with the conservation reserve program, another phase, there were five contracts in force involving 297 acres of cropland taken out of production and devoted to conservation uses. The annual payments made to these five farmers amounted to $2,275. In addition to the annual payments, $892 was paid in assistance in the establishing of 33 acres of permanent cover.

In reference to the wheat allotments program in the county a total of 206 farms growing wheat were allocated 1,122 acres for allotments. There were no excess cases as all farms stayed within their allotments or 15 acres, whichever was larger.

Allotments And Payments

Wheat allotments are necessary as a means of adjusting supplies of wheat and are required each year as long as the Secretary of Agriculture deems it necessary.

In the wool program designed to provide incentive payments to wool producers as a means to increase the production and use of wool, 25 payments were made for shorn wool and unshorn lambs to the extent of $775 during the marketing year, April 1, 1958 to March 31, 1959.

Miss Hoover said a total of 1,776 pounds of shorn wool and 7,090 pounds of unshorn lambs were eligible for the above incentive payment.

Under the work carried out under the performance program consisted of the measuring of wheat, and measuring land going into the Acreage Reserve and the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank.

Boys Get Suspended Terms At Hearing

Two local boys, Daniel Jones, 19, and Billie Jenkins, 18, were given suspended 60-day sentences in Allegany County Jail yesterday when they were found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Juvenile Court Magistrate Louis A. Fatkin suspended the jail term on condition they pay an imposed $100 fine.

The young men and a 15-year-old youth were arrested Wednesday by Det. Kenneth Morrissey for theft of liquor from the Vogue Bar on Liberty Street. The youth was sentenced to the Maryland Training School for Boys for violation of parole earlier this week.

Traffic Deaths Show Decline

OTTAWA (AP)—Traffic deaths in Canada were cut six per cent in the first half of this year, though the number of vehicle accidents continued to rise.

Vehicle traffic accidents took 1,195 lives in the January-June period, compared with 1,276 a year earlier, the Bureau of Statistics said Friday.

The number of persons injured decreased to 34,521 from 34,834. But the number of traffic accidents reported—those involving more than $100 damage—rose to 109,188 from 101,703.

Makarios Orders Talks Resumed

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Archbishop Makarios, the Greek Cypriot majority leader, has ordered resumption next week of Greek-Turk talks on how the two communities will run independent Cyprus, starting next year. He suspended talks recently after a squabble over seizure of arms smuggled in a Turk fishing boat.

Catholics Plan Clothing Drive

The Bishops' annual Thanksgiving Clothing Collection will be held in Roman Catholic parishes throughout the United States November 22-29.

The clothing will be used to aid poverty-stricken areas in South America and Africa in addition to afflicted areas in Europe, Asia and the Far East.

It has been estimated that in 10 previous campaigns, more than 100,000,000 pounds of clothing, shoes, bedding and other materials valued at over $125,000,000 were collected and distributed to the destitute throughout the world.

Last year's collection brought in more than 13,100,000 pounds of relief materials, valued at over $17 million and distributed to the needy of 40 countries.

Lower Wins Speech Event At Fort Hill

Thomas Lower, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lower, 933 Kent Avenue, will represent Fort Hill High School in the area "I Speak For Democracy" contest.

The event is scheduled for November 5, according to Paul Moore, chairman, and is being jointly sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, National Association of Broadcasters, Electronics Industry and State Association of Broadcasters.

Lower, a junior at Fort Hill, was selected from a field of seven finalists, representing the sophomore, junior and senior classes.

Other finalists in the school contest were Sandy Sonner, Robert Mertens and Edgar Barnes, seniors; Kathryn Skitaric and Roseann Weber, juniors, and Ed Holshey, sophomores.

Entries in the school contest were judged on the basis of content, delivery and originality. The students who wished to enter the event gave their speeches over the public address system. No Reger has previously served names were announced; each contestant used a number for identification purposes.

Judging the event were three members of the English Department, Miss Jean Bowen, Miss Twila Brotemarkle and Miss Lilian Boughton.

Lower is a member of the Beginning Journalism Class, the Fort Hill Senior Band and the All-County Band.

Local Man Sentenced On Larceny Charge

A local man was sentenced to six months in the Maryland House of Correction yesterday in Trial Magistrate Court after he was found guilty of shoplifting at a downtown store.

Harry Reger pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny before Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt, the public address system. No Reger has previously served names were announced; each contestant used a number for identification purposes.

Starting Over On Income Tax

The federal taxation apparatus, when viewed as a whole, is a fearful but far from wonderful hodge-podge. The income tax feature may be the worst. It is said that some of its provisions are now so complex that even tax experts do not know what they mean.

But this is only one of many complexities, which include tax exemptions, capital gains, business deductions, depreciation, mutual finance company operations, cooperatives, foreign income, accounting methods, pensions and many other angles, including acts of God.

Because of the mishmash and confusion over tax laws and regulations requiring millions of words, it is gratifying news that the House Ways and Means Committee plans to engage in a month-long study of the complete federal taxation system.

It may be that the committee is over-optimistic in assuming it can finish its monumental job in a month, but if it takes three months it will be well worth while—assuming that the members will do a lot of homework and tackle the problem courageously, with assistance of competent businessmen.

It will help greatly if the Ways and Means Committee will build from the ground up, using simple straight-forward words to make a new start on the process of taking money from the citizen to maintain the federal government in all its wasteful profligacy.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Rise Of Bigotry

My mail comes from many sources and often makes no sense, but the volume of hate material increases. Some of it is designed to destroy Jews and blames them for all the evil in this world, but these days most of it is aimed at Roman Catholics. The latest is a circular signed "International Ku Klux Klan/ The Neophyl - affiliates/ Former Roman Catholics - now Christians."

No address is given to which one can write to inquire what this is. But when I see a paragraph like this, it seems to me that some devils are at work to stir up trouble among Americans:

"Communism is a piker as compared with Roman Catholicism in her march toward world domination. Persecutions at the hands of Communism can't begin to compare with the persecutions and deaths of Protestants down through the years at the behest of Roman Catholicism. (Rome is still out-of-bounds to Protestant worship.)"

To one who is neither a Catholic nor a Protestant, all this seems historically without any sense, because there was a time when all Christians were Catholics, Roman or Eastern. Even after Nicæa (325 A.D.) the divisions between Trinitarians and Unitarians did not produce as wide a split. Christians survived the shock of a division of ideas.

The first great split came with the separation of the Byzantine Church from the Roman. This split, however, was ecclesiastical rather than theological. The Eastern Church is Catholic although it does not accept the authority of Rome. Some Eastern churches, however, have joined Rome but keep their own rites and many differences in the discipline of the clergy.

The widest split away occurred after Martin Luther had established a form of Christianity, which while accepting the Apostle's Creed and the Nicæan Creed, rejected the government of the Church by Rome. At first these changes were principally ecclesiastical and political; subsequently Protestantism became increasingly individualistic in interpretation of Christianity until today there are more than 200 creeds and variations of creeds. But the essence of the Judeo-Christian civilization is the Natural Law.

Never before, during the entire history of Christianity, has any church encountered the organized power of atheism. This should give both the Christian and non-Christian pause because we live in a civilization which has been developing for at least 4,000 years and is based upon the development of thought and practice as they appear in the Bible, the Torah, the Prophets, the Talmud, the Apostles, the Church Fathers and the Medieval philosophers, Jewish, Christian and Moslem. It would be error not to include in this the great thinkers of Greece and Rome, particularly Aristotle whose influence upon Christian thought has been enormous.

Today, for the first time in history, political atheism appears before us as a contestant for control of the thinking of men. Khrushchev, without apology, declared himself to be an atheist and the United States, except in Pittsburgh, bowed to his atheism by avoiding the grace before meals which is essential in the thinking of both Jewish and Christian thought: namely, that no man is the author of his own life and his benefit, but that the fruits of the Earth and the grant of life itself come from God. The grace before meals, particularly on public occasions, is an essential acknowledgment of the dependence upon God.

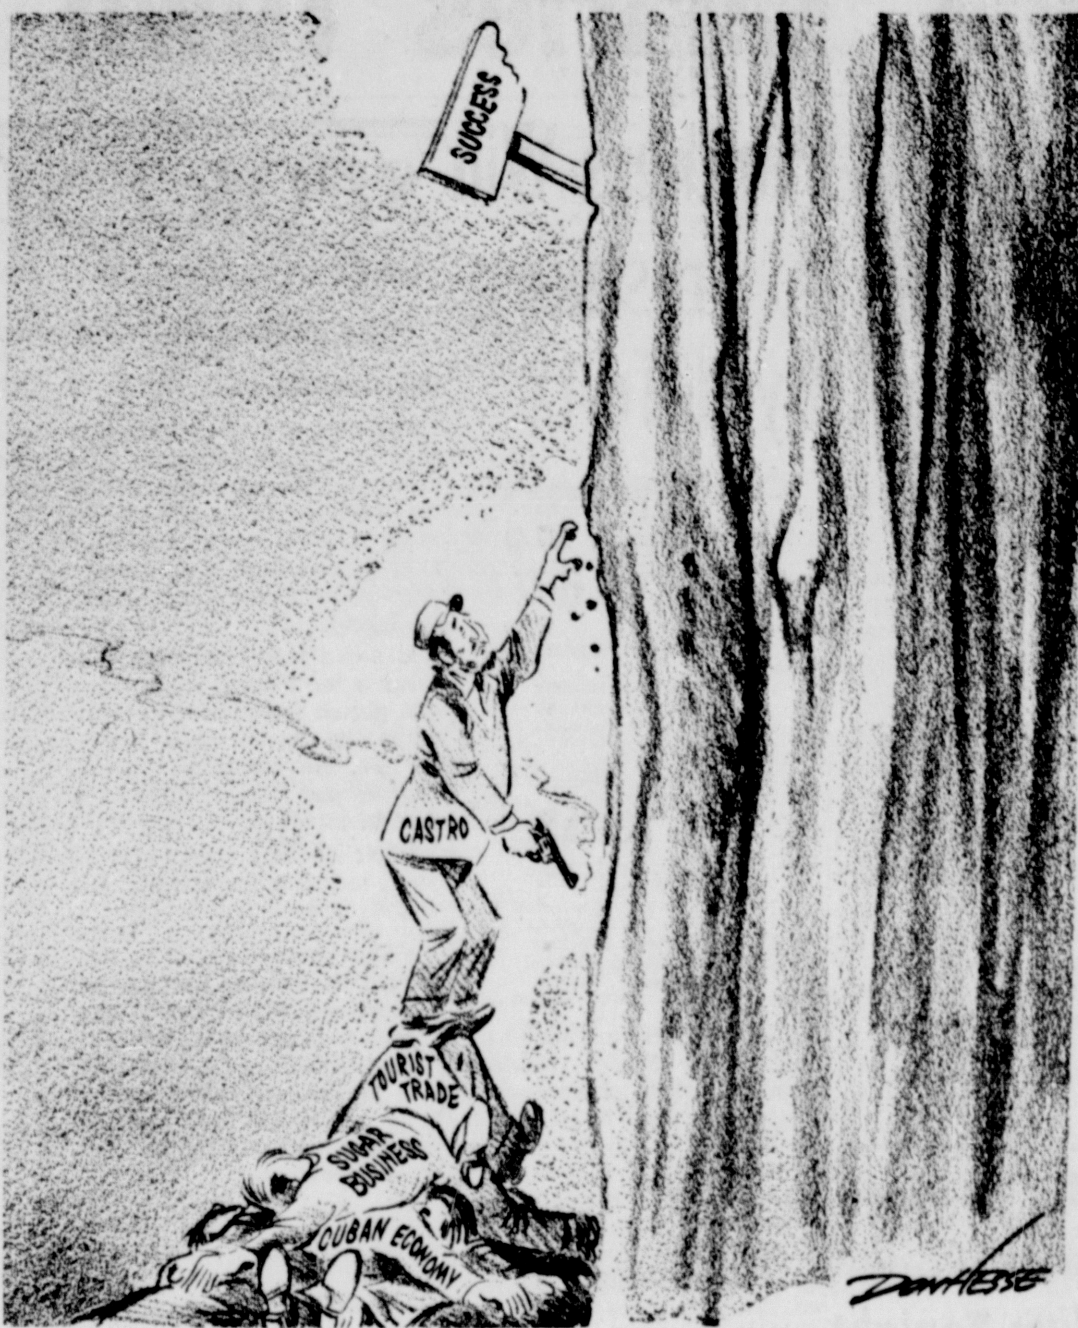

Unless we believe that, our particular civilization must collapse because we believe in social justice, the rights of the individual to form the pattern of his life, because we believe that in the eyes of God, all men are created equal and possess certain unalienable rights. This doctrine is the basic philosophy of American life as incorporated in the Declaration of Independence.

I do not pretend to write a theological dissertation on the Natural Law and its relationship to American civilization, but I do make the point that the Communists and atheists can conquer us intellectually if we insist upon bigoted battling among ourselves over unrealistic issues. Let a man believe as he desires without smashing his neighbor's face for believing differently.

The hate organizations and the hate publications are damaging the United States because they divide the American people. The hate sheets are often so untruthful but there are some who accept anything that is printed as authoritative. The menace is that those who accept this nonsense vote that way, teach their children to believe it, perpetuating hate for generations. America cannot afford such divisions.

Strange Ladder

Sources Of Conflict Between Russia, China

HONG KONG

By Joseph Alsop

At Peking's grandiose celebration of the tenth anniversary of the Chinese Communist revolution, the Chinese hosts and their Russian senior partners gave the vast audience some things to talk about.

The thing most discussed was the speech delivered by the Soviet theoretician, Mikhail Suslov, representing Nikita S. Khrushchev. This jolly, fifty-minute lecture on the glories of Leninism included the reminder that Lenin had been the real inventor of the special revolutionary technique for Asians on which Mao Tse-tung claims the patent.

What was not said was even more significant. The whole place was figuratively knee-deep in bouquets tossed by the other speakers. Yet Suslov hardly offered the Chinese Communists so much as a withered verbal immortal. In response, meanwhile, the Chinese Foreign Minister, Chen Yi, first ostentatiously yawned and then went conspicuously to sleep.

The second subject of discussion was the last scene between Khrushchev and Mao, after an announced total of four long conferences on subjects undisclosed. Just before boarding his big plane, Khrushchev approached Mao, positively bubbling over with comradely affection. He tried to say good-bye once, but Mao, abstracted, merely gazed skyward. He tried a second time, but the same thing happened again. Only on the third round did the two partners in the grand alliance strike hands together in a seemingly fond farewell.

From such symptomatic trifles as these, observers in Moscow and Peking have deduced that there is some kind of friction between the Chinese Communists and their Soviet big brothers. Previous reports have shown the reasons for doubting the cliché-theories about the source of this friction. But where then is the rub?

The threadbareness of the "empty lands" theory and other clichés about the Sino-Soviet relationships were exposed by a hard look at the known facts. The same method is the only one to show where the rub may really be.

The first and most important known facts are the Soviet leader's own remarks on the subject. Over and over again, foreign interviewers have tried to draw out Khrushchev, both on the possible dangers of Mao's aggressiveness and on China's supposed threat to Russia's "empty lands." Khrushchev has always laughed in his interviewers' faces.

But to Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Khrushchev sharply criticized the rural communes (which might better be called agrarian slave labor camps) that Mao has set up in China. And Anastas Mikoyan strongly echoed this same criticism of Chinese domestic policy during his American journey.

These criticisms are unique. There is no record of any other unkind word spoken by responsible Soviet officials to Western-

TIGHT MONEY—The government's efforts to check inflation through a policy of tight money and high interest rates has put the Treasury in an uncomfortable position.

For the first time in many years, the money scarcity caused the Treasury to issue bonds bearing five per cent annual interest. This was necessary because the government had to bid against private institutions for available cash.

The idea of the 5 per cent was to attract some bank money and some investors who have been putting their money into the stock market.

The two billion dollar bond offering was oversubscribed five times. In other words, the Treasury received bids sufficient to sell $10 billion worth of the bonds.

Where the money came from has embarrassed the government. Some of it, of course, came from bankers and the usual run of institutional investors.

However, some of it came from individual saving accounts, which the Treasury did not want to attract. And a goodly portion came from individuals who did a little quick arithmetic and cashed in 3 1/2 per cent savings bonds for 5 per cent.

K-9 CORPS—The use of trained dogs in wartime is well known, but contrary to the general impression the Army and Air Force are finding the canines invaluable in peacetime activities, as well.

The two services have more than 4,000 dogs enlisted in some of their activities, primarily to guard air and missile bases here and abroad. Most of them are highly trained and ferocious German shepherds. Their use conserves military manpower for other than guarding purposes. The dollar saving is considerable.

By the end of World War II, the United States had more than 10,000 dogs in the services, but most of them were mustered out. Current dog force has been built up in the last few years.

Their pay? A clean kennel and four pounds of meat daily.

Animals Are Generous With Their Diseases

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

There are more than 87 diseases of lower animals that can be transmitted to man. These conditions have been dubbed zoonoses (zoo animal, and noses—disease). At least 20 of these disorders are caused by viruses, of which rabies is best known.

According to Patterns of Disease, many misconceptions exist in this field. For example, we associate rabies with dogs—but cats, wolves, foxes, chickens, and other animals may become afflicted.

Most afflicted pets get the infection when they wander into fields where these animals abound. A bat was found in Florida in 1953 that harbored the rabies virus. Since then, more than 175 cases have been reported from 19 states—all from bats.

The turkey has become the latest source of psittacosis (parrot fever) in humans. There were 201 cases of this disease in Texas in 1954, with 190 occurring in persons who handled turkeys. A Wisconsin processing plant had 22 cases in 1956. As a rule, victims of psittacosis have been in contact with sick parrots or parakeets but pigeons, ducks, chickens, canaries, gulls, and egrets are potential offenders.

Brucellosis (undulant fever) is considered a problem among farmers, meat packers, and those who drink unpasteurized milk. But the veterinarian is the most likely candidate. Brucellosis is so common among this profession, it is considered an occupational disease.

Tularemia represents another public health problem. It is contracted from infected wild birds or animals through handling, by drinking contaminated water, or—more commonly—via tick bites.

PLUGGED ARTERY

D. T. writes: How does a person know when he has an obstructed coronary artery?

REPLY
The majority of victims develop pain and a sense of burning or pressure beneath the breastbone. Distress may radiate into the neck and arms. In some instances, the sufferer collapses and goes into shock. An individual may have a mild attack and never know it; this is known as a silent coronary.

Teddy Nader's Quiz Show Future Debated In Backstage Meetings

By Jack Anderson

(While Drew Pearson is in the west his column is being written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

WASHINGTON — One of the early stars of the $64,000 quiz shows was a $50-a-week supply clerk named Teddy Nadler who pitted his brains against experts in several fields.

The idea of having him take on all comers was discussed at the secret, weekly meeting of advertisers, sponsors, and producers on January 31, 1957.

The confidential minutes, available to this column, report: "There was a discussion of the possibility of having Nadler be the champion through the entire proceedings of as many shows as possible—having questions hurled at him continuously throughout the half hour by various contestants in the various categories chosen."

This was followed in the March 21 minutes with another cryptic notation: "It was not decided as to how much longer Teddy Nadler would continue on 'Challenge'."

Those who planned Nadler's appearance have assured this column, however, that it was never intended to feed him advance answers. Popular contestants were kept on the show by asking them questions which preliminary tests indicated they should be able to answer.

Unknown to the sponsors and advertisers, however, the producers later slipped winning answers to some contestants. This was done in at least two cases by Entertainment Productions, Inc., which owned and produced $64,000 shows. The company was controlled by CBS-TV president Lou Cowan who ostensibly gave up his holdings, although his wife reportedly still has stock.

The January 31 minutes also disclose that the program planners toyed with the idea of having Nadler challenge Charles Van Doren, big-money winner on the rival "Twenty-one" show.

Expert vs. Expert

"For publicity purposes," the notes state, "it was agreed that it would be a good idea to have Theodore Nadler publicly challenge Charles Van Doren of '21' to a contest."

But the idea was abandoned at the February 21 meeting.

Nadler performed such spectacular memory feats that the Emil Mogul advertising agency privately offered him a $10,000-a-year job to do memory work. He agreed to consider the offer and call back.

When he failed to return the call, Mogul asked George Adams, then advertising director for the $64,000 shows' sponsor, Revlon, to speak for Nadler.

"I forgot Mogul's telephone number," explained the memory expert. (He didn't get the job.)

The confidential minutes reveal that the $64,000 high command also considered FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover and the Lord Mayor of Dublin as possible contestants.

The idea of using big-name contestants led to an inner struggle between the producers and advertisers. The producers preferred ordinary people with whom the audience could identify themselves. But the B. B. D. & O. advertising agency insisted upon going after prominent contestants.

When the ratings began to slip, the January 31 minutes report: "There was an extended discussion about the necessity of reinstating into the 'Question' and 'Challenge' shows the kind of contestant with whom the audience could identify itself. This would be given major consideration in the choosing of contestants in the future."

The friction between advertisers and producers bubbled to the surface again in the form of a needling letter which Albert Ward of B. B. D. & O. wrote on July 16, 1957, to Mort Koplin of Entertainment Productions.

"Our main impression here," Ward explained, "is that BBDO mail to you people concerning contestants and categories ends up in the wb (wastebasket) file."

The Pinch Is On

By Leslie Gould

NEW YORK—If the steel strike continues much longer, it will prove one of—if not the—most costly labor tie-ups on record.

The pinch is now on and the cost is mounting as more and more lines are running short of steel.

Around a million workers are now idle, but this is only after comparatively small curtailment up to a week ago in such lines as automobiles. Another week may see the auto industry half to two-thirds down.

More than half a million steel workers have lost 15 weeks pay, around a quarter of a million railroad workers close to this and another quarter million workers anywhere from one to four weeks pay. Their number will mount rapidly every day the strike continues.

These losses will never be recovered.

The companies also are feeling the economic pinch. U.S. Steel—the biggest in the industry—reports after tax adjustments a third quarter loss of $31 million due to the strike. The actual loss in revenues runs closer to six times that figure—more than $180 million.

The smaller figure is after a tax credit of $59 million and nearly $18 million taken off in the two preceding quarters under the company's own accelerated depreciation policy.

Before these adjustments, the company's loss was $106 million, compared to a profit of approximately $75 million earned after taxes in the same quarter a year ago. So, adding these two, the actual drop in revenues for

My only reason for making this statement is that we like to have a piece of paper to prove all the work we do for that 15 per cent (commission)."

Interest Lags

As the rating continued to skid, the minutes reflect growing concern.

"Most recent research done on the '$64,000 Challenge' indicates that interest is lagging in the two shows. It seems to indicate that loss of viewers is attributable to this waning interest rather than to the fact of their going to more powerful competition," report the minutes.

Co-producer Steve Carlin suggested a sweepstakes gimmick. The March 1 minutes comment: "After Steve Carlin presented a unique device for introducing a sweepstakes plan on the 'Question' variations of this plan were discussed. It was felt by many present that the sweepstakes plan might have a cheapening effect on the entire show."

The following week, Revlon executive Martin Revson proposed using a roulette wheel.

"The last half of the meeting," the minutes declare, "was concerned with various ways in which the '64' show, and more specifically the 'Question' show, could be improved. It was Martin Revson's contention that a totally new competitive device should be inserted. By the end of the meeting, the device of the roulette wheel seemed to have gained much favor, and everybody during the coming week will try to work out ways in which it could be used to advantage."

It was during this period of alarm over ratings that associate producer Shirley Bernstein gave advance answers to contestant Wilton Springer.

Another matter of profound discussion at the February 7, 1957, meeting was movie actress Barbara Britton's dress. She was the hostess who delivered the Revlon commercials.

"Mr. Martin Revson made a point of mentioning Barbara Britton's dress on last Tuesday's show," say the minutes. "It must be the agency's responsibility to be sure that not only must the dress be in good taste, but that there are no embellishments or accoutrements that are so outstanding that they detract from or affect the commercials. It might be a good idea for us to get three or four well-designed and good-looking dresses for our spokeswomen."

But perhaps the most appropriate suggestion was offered on February 7 by Entertainment Productions which proposed a new show to be called: "What's The Use?"

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A business man bound from New York to the middle west climbed aboard one of those economy-minded railroad trains, sat down at a clothless table in the diner and demanded a three-inch sirloin, smothered in mushrooms, bologna, sauce, and french fries. The waiter eyed him pityingly and commented, "Are you ordering, sir, or reminiscing?"

Princess Marie Louise had the great Gladstone as a dinner partner one night, and the following evening was seated next to his bitter adversary, Benjamin Disraeli. Asked to compare the rival statesmen, the Princess summed it up like this: "When I left the dining room after sitting beside Gladstone, I thought he was the cleverest man in London. But after sitting beside Disraeli, I was convinced I was the cleverest woman in England!"

Bill Moyes, of Portland, Oregon, heard Johnny Ray sob his way through a dolorous ballad, and observed, "Don't know what to call him, but he's mighty lachrymose."

PONY TAIL PERILS

H. J. writes: My mother says it is harmful to wear the hair in a pony tail. Is this right, and if so, why?

REPLY

A few cases of loss of hair on the sides have been reported. Skintight hair was blamed. It is reasonable to assume that no harm will result if the hair is not pulled taut.

TUBES AND OVARIES OUT

M. D. writes: What is bilateral salpingo-oophorectomy?

REPLY
Bilateral means both sides; salpingo, tubes; oophor, ovaries; ectomy, removal. Put them all together and you have surgical removal of both tubes and ovaries.

ALLERGY AND SINUS

J. D. writes: Can allergy cause sinus trouble?

REPLY

Yes—this is a common origin of obstruction of the nose, leading to sinus discomfort. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on sinus disturbances.

THE STAPH BUG

H. J. writes: What is a staph infection?

REPLY
Infection due to the staphylococcus and not the office staff.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

You're Telling Me!

New actuarial tables disclose that slender people live longer. Now you know why insurance companies take a narrow viewpoint.

Overweight people can still live to a ripe old age, however. At least, they've got a fat chance.

The insurance people learned that reducing pays off in life expectancy. On the other hand, who wants to be old and hungry?

The actuaries learned that women are five pounds lighter than they were 30 years ago. Slow process, that reducing.

Women still outlive men, statistics say. Women's figures may lie, but their statistics don't.

It's no wonder women die later than men. Most women won't admit they're that old.

One fact about both men and women hasn't changed. They both die very late in life.

Best way to get the last word in an argument with the wife, opines Zadok Dunkopf, is to apologize.

Mountain climbing, we read, is rapidly increasing in popularity. Just another sport that's reaching its peak?

Alegany's powerful running attack took the measure of another Cumberland Valley Athletic League opponent last night, Frederick bowing to the Campers by a 20-0 score at Fort Hill Stadium.

It was the fourth CVAL win without a loss for the league-leading Campers, whose overall record for the season stands at 6-1. Fort Hill's Sentinels, idle this weekend, are in second place in the seven-team circuit with a 3-0-1 mark, the tie coming at the hands of Frederick, 7-7, early in the campaign.

All of Alegany's touchdowns came on long drives. The Campers tallied in the first period after traveling 94 yards in nine plays. Jim Winter's recovery of Wayne Rinehart's fumble on the Alegany six-yard line gave the Campers possession and stopped a Cadet drive that began back on the visitors' 32 yard line following the opening kickoff. The subsequent six-pointers, in the second and fourth periods, came on marches of 68 and 48 yards, respectively.

Cadet Threats Stopped

In addition to their strong offensive attack, the Campers displayed some brilliant defensive work. A Cadet scoring threat was stopped early in the second period when Ken Wilbourne, needing only a yard for a first down at the Alico five, tried to go around his own right end for the yardage, but was "gang tackled" at the line of scrimmage and the Campers took over on downs.

Then in the final quarter, after the game was practically out of the Cadets' reach, they had another sterling scoring opportunity squelched when Ronnie Evans, a standout on Alegany's defensive unit, intercepted Danny Zimmerman's pass on the Camper four yard line.

The Camper backs churned out a net total of 248 yards on the ground, with Bob Gaffney, the leading scorer in the city with 12 touchdowns and 72 points (including a TD scored last night), pacing the ground gaining crew. The hard-running junior halfback carried the ball only eight times but picked up 97 yards for an average of over 12 yards per crack.

Gaffney Breaks Loose

Gaffney broke loose for a 46-yard gallop midway in the first period after taking a pitchout from quarterback Gary Mulligan and heading for the left sidelines. He was hauled down at the Frederick 34, but after Frank Cawood picked up a yard off tackle, Mervin Pope made a spectacular fingertip catch of a Mulligan aerial for a first down on the Frederick eight, from where Gaffney carried over on the next play.

Tom Miller accounted for Alegany's other touchdowns. He scored from three yards out in the second period to cap a 68-yard drive in which he was the key figure, picking up 39 yards in four carries. Chuck Aronholt, whose first extra point try missed, connected on his second boot. Miller plunged over from the one-yard line in the fourth quarter to close out the scoring for the evening. Cawood, who was runnerup to Gaffney with 72 yards in 13 tries, got off a 33-yard run up the middle to set up the score. Aronholt again came through with the point after.

Frederick matched the Campers in first downs with 12, but 10 of these came in the first and last periods when the Cadets were fashioning their scoring threats by picking up yardage in small chunks. The longest run of the evening by a Frederick back was a 13-yard gallop by Tom Staley on the Cadets' first play from scrimmage. Alegany held the edge in nearly every other statistical department, although the visitors outgained the Campers through the air, 48-18. However, the Cadets attempted 10 passes while the landlubbing Campers tried only two.

Pirates Deny Move Rumors

Home Site Sought For 1964 Season

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Pittsburgh Pirate President John W. Galbreath, re-emphasizing the club will not move its franchise out of the city, said Friday his most immediate concern was having a home playing site available for 1964.

"I know nothing about any of these proposed franchise shifts," Galbreath said. "There have been no meetings called by the president of the National League or the commissioner of baseball that I know anything about since our last regular league meeting."

He said the club directors met last week to discuss how they can persuade Pittsburgh city officials to "move more actively ahead in their program for building a new stadium."

The Pirates sold Forbes Field, their playing site since 1909, to the University of Pittsburgh. The school granted the Pirates a five-year lease to permit continuation of game homes.

Galbreath's denial was in reply to reports earlier this week that efforts were under way to move Pittsburgh into the American League.

Blattner Signs Pact To Broadcast St. Louis Games

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Bob (Bud) Blattner, who quit Falstaff Brewing Company 10 days ago because of alleged differences with Dizzy Dean, his partner on the Game-of-the-Weeks baseball telecasts, Friday signed a contract to broadcast the St. Louis Hawks professional basketball games.

Blattner also will do the play-by-play for the telecasts of the St. Louis Cardinals baseball road games next summer.

Blattner, 39-year-old former major league infielder, said he had turned down out-of-town jobs to take on the combined assignment here. He will begin broadcasting the Hawks' games immediately. Blattner, who played with the old New York Giants from 1945 to 1949, will join the baseball broadcasting team of Harry Caray and Joe Garagiola.

Coach Dick Harmison's Charles Town High School undefeated Panthers rolled to their seventh victory last night by handing the Beall High School Mountaineers a 26-12 setback at Beall High School Stadium before a large crowd.

Charles Town took a 20-0 lead at halftime and never was headed. The Panthers scored their final touchdown in the last period after Beall counted twice in the third quarter.

A 50-yard pass play executed by Larry Burns and Robinson set up the first Charles Town score in the opening period. Jackson then went 15 yards up the middle for the six pointer and Glaze kicked the extra point.

In the second quarter after Beall's Jim Evans fumbled on his own two-yard line, the Panthers went 80 yards for their second score on a series of runs and pass plays. Robinson plunged from the two for the td but Glaze's kick for the point went wide.

Two successive pass plays, Burns to Robinson for 48 yards to the 23 and Burns to Spinks for the final 23 yards produced the Jefferson Countians' third score of the game. Glaze's conversion from placement gave the visitors a 20-0 advantage at intermission.

Beall snapped back for both of its scores in the third period. The Mountaineers drove from their 28 to the Charles Town 31 and on a reverse Don Bush sprinted the remaining distance to the goal line. Robinson's point try was blocked.

Coach Jerry Calhoun's team drove 97 yards for its second score, with Harper, Bush and Monahan carrying the ball. Beall moved to the Charles Town 21. On a wide reverse, Bush went all the way for the six-pointer. Robinson's kick was wide.

A fumble paved the way for Charles Town's score in the final period. Glaze smashed over from the five but his kick for the point was blocked.

The loss was the fourth for Beall against three wins and one tie game. Lineups:

Ed Parsons Goes Up Champ Praises Meet Babe Adams Now 76 Gower Is Visitor

By C. V. BURNS

PVT. Edgar L. Parsons, former Fort Hill High School third baseman, has been assigned to the Ashville, N. C., club of the South Atlantic League next year after he completes a six months' hitch in the Marine Corps at Paris Island.

This is a jump from Class D to Class A for Parsons who pitched and played the outfield for Tampa in the Florida State League in 1959. He had a 9-6 pitching record and tossed three 3-hit games.

Eddie's batting average for the year, including the playoffs, was slightly above the .300 mark.

Since he was signed by the Phillies, Parsons has played in several leagues but he has been handicapped by injuries. At Olean, N. Y., he suffered a broken nose when struck by a thrown ball and at Bakersfield, Calif., he was "beamed."

In a letter to John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, who was his coach at Fort Hill High School, Parsons stated that last season he played against the Keller Brothers (Don and Charley) of Frederick and they both had good years as Yankee farmhands at St. Petersburg.

Among Eddie's teammates was Dick Smith, the $75,000 bonus baby from Walkersville, Md. Parsons states that Smith had a good year but his arm went bad and his future as a pitcher is in doubt.

Von McDaniel, property of the St. Louis Cardinals, was in the same league. He pitched and played about every position. Parsons, however, doesn't think Von will make it as a pitcher again. McDaniel has great control but no speed at all and his ball doesn't move, according to Eddie.

Parsons said he wished Charley Lattimer and Jimmy Eckard the best of luck in their new coaching jobs at Fort Hill and said he was sorry to hear that Barrelville lost to Hyndman in the Pen-Mar League playoffs after winning the pennant. Eddie formerly played with Barrelville.

ONE of the most interested spectators at Alegany County's first cross country race Thursday at the Fort Cumberland Golf Club course was Harold E. "Shorty" Naughton, Cumberland attorney.

Mr. Naughton was the University of Maryland's cross country champion in his freshman year at College Park. He finished first in meets with Tome School, St. John's, Johns Hopkins and Virginia and lost out on a meet with the Naval Academy piebets.

The LaSalle High School grad also set a record of 16 minutes, 23 seconds for 3.1 miles in the meet with St. John's of Annapolis.

Ready To Trade

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates are ready to trade any player provided it will help the club in the 1960 pennant race.

This pledge was voiced by Danny Murtaugh Friday when he met the press after signing his managerial contract for next season.

"But we won't trade for the sake of getting new faces," the chipper Irishman said. "We'll trade only to strengthen."

The key Pirates in Murtagh's estimation are pitcher Bob Friend, infielder Bill Mazeroski, and outfielders Bill Virdon and Bob Skjettner.

"We need another power hitter to go along with Dick Stuart," Murtagh said at a luncheon at Forbes Field. "We've talked to several clubs but it looks as though they don't have enough power hitters to satisfy them."

Knights Win Over Aggies By 3-1 Score

Bruce Is Knocked Out Of Title Race By Mt. Savage, 1-0

WMI SOCCER LEAGUE
Standing Of The Teams	W.	L.	T.	Pts.

Valley High School won the championship of the Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League for the seventh consecutive season by defeating the Flintstone Aggies yesterday at Lonaconing by the score of 3-1 while Mt. Savage was upsetting the Bruce High School Bulldogs at Westernport in a 1-0 battle.

The victory for Coach John Meyers' Black Knights was the fifth against two tie games with one game remaining on the schedule with Beall on Tuesday. Valley has played 52 consecutive games since 1953 without a defeat. Ten of the contests were ties. The Knights also completed their 7th straight home season without a setback. Their home record since coming into the league in 1953 is 25 wins, no losses and three defeats.

Meyers' Ninth Winner

Valley has won the title outright every year since coming into the league except in 1958 when the Knights deadlocked Bruce for the honors. This is Coach John Meyers' ninth championship title in the county booting circuit. He was tied with John "Chip" Grindle of Bruce High at eight prior to this season. Meyers also had winners at Central High in 1949 and 1950.

Robert Brown sent Valley ahead at 1-0 in yesterday's goal by kicking a field goal in the second period, on an assist from Wade Grove. In the final period Jerry Winner scored a penalty goal and Jim Pollock tallied from the field on a head shot.

Score In Final Period

Reed Clingerman scored Flintstone's field goal in the final period after substitute goalie Reidler had replaced Bradley at the uprights. Only three goals have been scored against Bradley this season — two penalties and a field goal on which Valley fullback Garlitz received an assist.

Twenty-seven Valley players saw action in yesterday's final game at home. The game's stand-out players were Jim Getty, Robert Brown, Larry McKenzie and Jim Pollock, of Valley, and Haines and Shipley of Flintstone.

Yesterday's win gave Valley a 12-1 seven year record against Flintstone.

Witte Goal Beats Bruce
A field goal by Bob Witte, on a free kick, in the second period was all that Coach John Thomas' Mt. Savage High School Indians needed to spill Bruce High School. The win moved Mt. Savage into the runner-up spot while the setback dropped Bruce into third place.

Bruce suffered its first loss at home under Coach Leonard Ritchie, who took over the reins in 1955. The Bulldogs owned a home record of 13 wins, no losses and five ties prior to yesterday's upset.

Mt. Savage, now in second place with a 3-2 record, winds up its season next Friday with Flintstone at Mt. Savage.

Goalie Fay Offen, Jim DeHaven, Witte and Leroy Morris, of Mt. Savage, and Joe Price, Roy Beard and Marshall Jones of Bruce were outstanding in yesterday's games. The lineups:

Terp Cagers Play In Bluegrass Event
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Indiana and Maryland will open the Bluegrass Invitational Basketball Tournament here Dec. 18.

The second game brings together Fordham and the host team, Louisville.

Pairings were announced Friday by Peck Hickman, Louisville's athletic director-basketball coach.

North Carolina won the two-day meet last year.

West Virginia Faces Unbeaten Nittany Lions

Mountaineers Hope To Spring Upset

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—Rain and a psychological edge appeared to be West Virginia University's chief hopes of slapping down the unbeaten Nittany Lions of Penn State here Saturday at Mountaineer Field.

Penn State brings six straight triumphs to Morgantown for Saturday's 1:30 p.m. kickoff. That sparkling record compares with the Mountaineers' three victories and three losses.

But two weeks ago, one of West Virginia's greatest victories took place in the campus horse stadium. The Mountaineers stunned a homecoming day crowd by upsetting highly regarded Pitt 23-15 in their only show of offensive punch to date.

The Nittany Lions are fresh from a 20-9 conquest of Illinois. Penn State also has beaten Missouri 19-8 and Army 21-12.

A slippery field Saturday would hurt Penn State more than WVU. Its quarterback, Richie Lucas, has been the offensive leader in a dual role of passer-runner. West Virginia, on a given day, has a reputation of snuffing out a good running attack and the Lions might have to take to the air.

Penn State has beaten West Virginia 16 times in a rivalry that started in 1904. The Mountaineers have won seven times, while two games were ties.

Circleville wound up the campaign with an 0-7 record.

Steve Conrad accounted for two touchdowns and Billy Kile and Joe Dahmer scored one each for Coach Curtis "Gus" Smith's eleven. In the third period Franklin caught the Circleville quarterback behind the goal line for a safety. Conrad kicked three extra points for the victors.

Circleville's touchdown came in the final period when Nelson intercepted a pass and ran 50 yards for the six-point play. Ken Kelsey plunged the point.

Terp Booters Win

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Maryland's soccer team ran its undefeated string to 24 with a 5-1 victory over Virginia Friday at Cliff Krug booted in three goals.

Runyan won the PGA Championship in 1934 and 1938. He was selected to five Ryder Cup teams.

Cooper, a native of Leatherhead, England, won seven open championships and was the PGA's leading money winner as well as Vardon Trophy winner in 1937.

Virginia Freshmen Trim Terps, 30-22

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Quarterback Gary Cuozzo and end Joseph Kehoe led Virginia's undefeated football freshmen to a scrappy 30-22 victory over Maryland's frosh Friday.

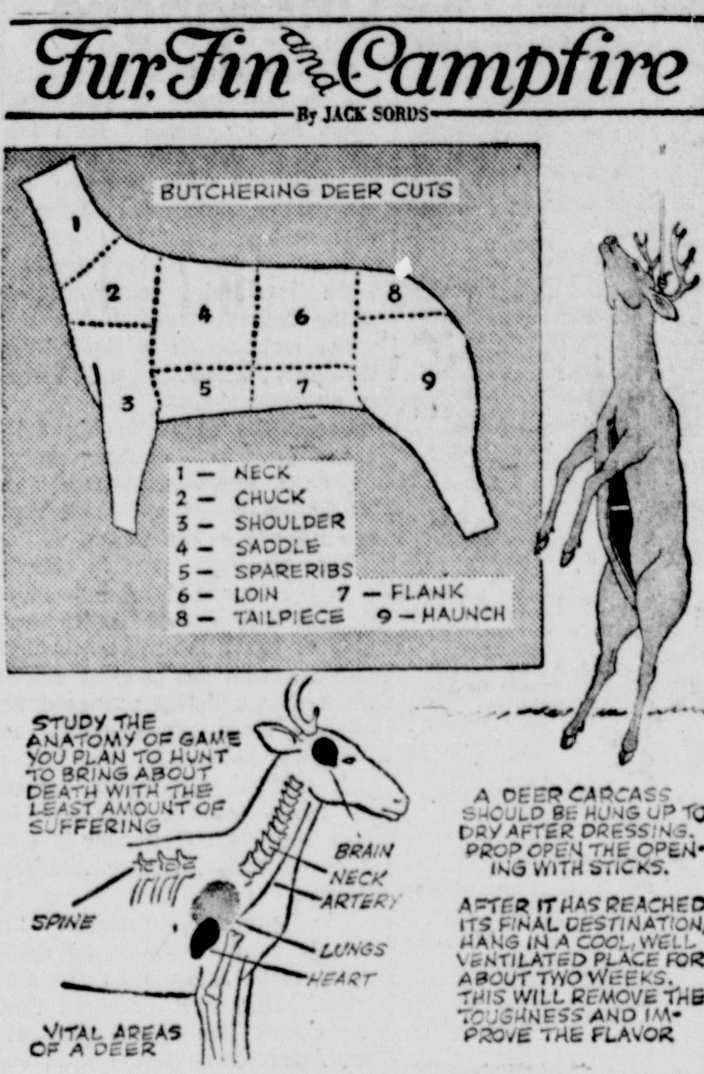

The young Cavaliers prevailed although they were outplayed statistically on the ground and in the air. The Terps rallied from a 16-0 deficit at the half to close within 24-22 before Virginia put the game away with a touchdown in the last four minutes.

Cuozzo completed six of 17 passes, all of them to his speedy teammate, Kehoe.

Virginia frosh are 3-0 for the season and Maryland frosh 0-3.

Sears Is Injured

NEW YORK (AP)—Kenny Sears, the leading York Knickerbockers' New York Knickerbockers' leading scorer for the past two seasons, has suffered an injury which will sideline him for five games. The club Friday put him on the inactive list for that number of National Basketball Assn. contests. Sears suffered a severe charley horse of the right calf in a scrimmage Thursday.

Top Ranked LSU To Battle Mississippi In Big Game

Northwestern, Rated No. 2, Faces Indiana; Orange Opposes Pitt

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The biggest game of the year—top-ranked and unbeaten Louisiana State against third-ranked and unbeaten Mississippi—has the national stage all to itself Saturday night for a game that could easily carry a "made in Hollywood" tag.

Before these two giants get together the day's other major games will have been finished but none will carry the impact of the much-talked about meeting of the two Southeastern Conference favorites.

Old Miss Rated 3d

LSU, rated No. 1 in the latest Associated Press poll, is going for broke with its three-plateau white, go and Chinese Bandits against a Mississippi team that is rated third nationally in total offense and defense.

Selima Stakes Attracts Nine

Feature At Laurel Will Gross $63,500

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—The Selima Stakes, one of the top fall tests for 2-year-old fillies, drew nine entries for its 34th running Saturday at Laurel. That makes the gross for the $30,000-added event $63,500.

Cain Hoy Stable's Cleo The Cat is expected to go off a slight favorite over Barry Ryan's Anchor Song in the mile and a sixteenth feature. Cleo The Cat came home first in front of Anchor Song earlier this year at Aqueduct, but Ryan's filly, daughter of Prince-Cleo, was marked up first when Cleo, bay offspring of turn-to, was disqualified.

Cleo The Cat has won two other starts this year.

Others entered are Greenree Stable's Silly Question, Mrs. Elizabeth Brisbane's Tunefully, Duval A. Headley's Mid Pacific, King Ranch's La Fuerza, Ogden Phipps' Sarcastic, Walter M. Jefford's victory over Virginia Friday at Cliff Krug booted in three goals.

BASEBALL TO BULLETS—The kids may not believe it, but the cowpoke looking at the party girl here is none other than Don Drysdale, the Dodgers' fireballing pitcher, who has a role in a TV western series. The gal is Dody Heath.

Warfare Is 8-5 Favorite In Rich Race

Ten Slated To Run In $283,075 Purse At Garden State

By JOHN CHANDLER
CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—The 2-year-old championship of 1959 and early favoritism for next year's Kentucky Derby will be on the line Saturday in the Garden State Stakes—not to mention a bankroll of considerable proportions.

Ten horses were officially named Friday for the seventh running of the world's richest race by payment of an entry fee of $1,000. A duplicate amount is due Saturday before the 4:18 p.m. (EST) post time. This would mean a gross purse of $283,075.

Warfare, the California-bred colt who whipped the best in the East two weeks ago at Aqueduct in the $230,300 Champagne, remained the 8-5 favorite. He is owned by C. S. Jones of Buena Park, Calif.

However, there was a lot of support for Tompon, who won the $114,475 Hopeful at Saragoga and finished second in the Champagne. Tompon is owned by C. V. Whitney, Lexington, Ky., and Hollywood, Calif. Tompon is the second choice at 5-2.

Others entered were Bourbon Prince, Pied D'Or, Bally Ache, Stephen, Azure's Orphan, V. V. Lark, Lurallah and Judge Martin. All will carry 122 pounds except Judge Martin, a non-winner in 10 starts, who has 116. The race will be televised (CBS) from 4-4:30 p.m.

Warfare, to be ridden by Ismael Valenzuela, starts from the No. 2 post, a favorite spot.

Willie Shoemaker rides Tompon, who drew the extreme outside No. 10 post.

Navy And Irish Play 33rd Time

Notre Dame Holds 25-6 Series Edge

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Notre Dame faces Navy tomorrow in college football's longest continuous intercollegiate rivalry.

It will be the 33rd straight game in the series with the Irish holding a 25-6 edge and only game having been tied. The Middies have won two of the last three games, but lost in 1958 at Baltimore, 40-20.

Neither team has been outstanding this season. The Irish, hobbled by injuries, have a 2-3 record including a 30-24 loss to Northwestern last week. Navy has 2-3 and a 22-22 tie last week with Penn.

Notre Dame is prepared for an aerial battle, featuring its George Igo against Joe Tranchini and Jim Maxfield, who have combined to hit on 70 out of 152 passes. But Navy's key man may be halfback Joe Bellino, who is ready to go full speed again and is ranked the Middies' best runner since 1933.

Terror Booters Win, Varga Sets Records

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—Western Maryland's center forward George Varga set some new records Friday as the WM soccer team walloped Lycoming 13-0.

Varga scored 10 goals, boosting his total for the season to 23. This broke the Western Maryland record of 25 set in 1957 by Denny Harmon, the WM coach.

The 10 scores also topped the old mark for a single game of six goals.

The victory was the Green Terror's seventh of the season against no defeats and a 0-0 tie with Washington College.

Geraghty Remains As Colonels Pilot

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—The Louisville Colonels announced Friday that Ben Geraghty has signed a contract to manage the American Association club again in 1960.

Club officials said the announcement had been delayed because Geraghty, who piloted the Colonels to the association pennant this year, had been under consideration as a successor to Fred Haney as manager of the parent Milwaukee Braves.

Round Table, Sword Dancer Tangle Today

Nine Enter Jockey Club Gold Cup Race

NEW YORK (UPI)—Round Table and Sword Dancer clash for "horse of the year" honors in the Jockey Club Gold Cup at Aqueduct Saturday with Eddie Arcaro riding Sword Dancer but Round Table still riderless on the eve of the race.

Willie Shoemaker usually rides Round Table, the world's leading money winner, but Shoemaker is committed to handle Warfare in the Garden State Stakes. Willie Harmatz, who has sat in for Shoemaker on several occasions, also has a Garden State engagement. Hank Moreno is signed up to ride Sarcastic in the Seima Stakes at Laurel.

Trainer Willie Molter also tried to get Bill Hartack to ride Round Table but Mrs. Herbert Herff entered Tudor Era in the Gold Cup and Hartack was committed to ride that mount.

Nine horses were named for the grueling two-mile race but not all of them were expected to start. Tudor Era is one who might withdraw. At entry time the weatherman talked of the possibility of rain and Tudor Era is at his best on the grass or a sloppy track.

The forecast has been changed to fair and cool, raising the possibility that Tudor Era might be scratched.

Rounding out the field are Inside Tract (Eldon Nelson), Sinn Feiner (Sidney Cole), Promised Land (no rider), Amanullah (Hedley Woodhouse), and Anisado (no rider).

Winner May Get $71,440

If all start the race will be worth a total of $111,600, with a net winner's purse of $71,440. The race will be televised nationally from 3:30 p.m. e.s.t. with post time at 3:42 p.m., e.s.t.

St. Patrick's Aims To End Season With Four Shutout Wins

Two weeks ago the "Fighting Irish" of St. Patrick's sewed up their 7th championship in 14 years of competition in the Catholic Youth Football League.

Tomorrow Father Arthur Bassett's champions will try to complete the season with a record of four shutout victories when they windup their series with St. Mary's Gaels at 1:30 p.m. at Maryland.

St. Patrick's won two games from SS. Peter & Paul, 12-0 and 7-0 and copped the opener from St. Mary's, 13-0.

Tommy Keyser has scored 19 of the 32 points made by St. Patrick's this season.

Frank Thomas Will Undergo Operation

CHICAGO (UPI)—Frank Thomas, third baseman for the Cincinnati Reds, was scheduled to undergo a second operation on his right thumb.

Thomas, who was one of Pittsburgh's leading batters two seasons ago, suffered a slump this past season with the Reds. He was expected to remain here several days after the operation.

The right handed slugger injured his thumb while playing for the Pirates in the 1958 season when he slugged 30 homers. He complained the injury hurt him when he batted and that he had been favoring it all last season.

Keyser High School scored touchdowns in the second and fourth periods yesterday to defeat the stubborn Petersburg High School Vikings in a Potomac Valley Conference game at Petersburg by the score of 12-0.

It marked the ninth straight year that Keyser turned back the Grant Countians and the win extended the Golden Tornado's string to 30 games in the Potomac Valley Conference. Coach Frederick "Tack" Clark's team registered its fifth league win of the campaign and upped their overall record for the campaign to 7-0.

Keyser has two more games on its P.V.C. schedule. West Virginia School for the Deaf has concluded its conference season with a 4-0 record.

Gary Keedy scored Keyser's first touchdown in the second period on a 13-yard end run. The score was set up when Keyser recovered Bruce's fumble on the Vikings' 15. Two plays later Keedy went over from the 13. Sidley's try for point was side.

Floyd Wilt registered Keyser's second td later in the final period when he plunged over from the two-foot mark on fourth down. Wilt ran the extra point.

Keyser started this drive after taping over on the Petersburg 43 as the third period ended. On the first play in the final quarter Keedy passed to Fred Clark for 42 yards and the latter reached the 15. Keedy carried for five yards to the ten, two plays netted four more yards and on fourth down Sidley chalked up a first down on the two. Clark and Wilt in four plays carried the ball to pay dirt.

Petersburg's four-game winning streak ended with yesterday's defeat. Coach Wayne Barr's Vikings now own a 4-2 record in the P.V.C. and their overall mark is 5-3. Lineups:

Polo Grounds May Be Sports Center

NEW YORK (AP)—Jay Coogan, administrator of the estate which owns the Polo Grounds, said Friday steps have been taken to turn the former home of the Giants into a huge sports center.

The center would be available for all of the big league baseball teams which are eyeing a franchise here, he added.

Coogan told a press conference that exploratory work has been done on redeveloping the Polo Grounds and the area around it.

The Giants shifted to San Francisco after the 1957 season.

Coogan said preliminary plans call for a center with a roof over it but he refused to exclude the possibility that the site could be used for baseball.

CINDERELLA HORSESHOES

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: What makes a well-educated girl turn into a tramp? Our daughter is 24 and a college graduate. She was reared in a God-fearing home. Eight months ago she started to run with a beatnik crowd that's the talk of the town.

Every week they meet at our home to read poetry. Although there are plenty of chairs they prefer to sit on the floor. I think they are crazy. The girls look as if they never heard of a comb and the fellows have beards and sweaters several sizes too large. The whole group could use a scrubbing down.

Two or three night in the week she doesn't come home to sleep. She says she was "With Jim"—or "John" or "Craig"—and she shows no hint of shame whatever.

What suddenly happens inside a girl's head that makes her take this peculiar twist?

—MOTHER OF A BEATNIK

DEAR MOTHER: Your beat daughter took no "sudden twist." She's been heading in this direction for a good many years. Beatniks aren't new. Twenty years ago they also had unwashed poetry-readers around Greenwich village with matted hair and sandaled feet.

These disciples of Kerouac and Ginsberg are the lost tribe of the unloved, unleashing their fury against the world. For the most part they are the groping in-betweeners who, plagued by their own insecurity, can only withdraw from the world of reality.

If these flea-bitten roamers would clean themselves up and get steady jobs they might find that there is a place for them in society.

DEAR ANN: In regard to Helen's 5 point plan to improve divorce laws, forgive me for being trite—but isn't this closing the barn door after the horse has been stolen?

I suggest, instead, a 2 point plan which would cut down on hasty marriages and quickie divorces. Let's have the loudest, pressure group of decent people this nation has ever heard of behind the following program:

1. A month's waiting period between request for a license to marry and the actual ceremony.
2. At least six months waiting period in all states before a divorce is granted.

This program would improve the marital health of America and heaven knows we are sick sick sick.

—PREVENTIVE EVELYN

DEAR ANN: On our honeymoon my husband took a picture of his deceased wife and a 5x7 sympathy card with the poem "Should You Go First." Also, he framed her death notice from the paper and hung it in our bedroom.

I loved my first husband and we had a happy marriage, but when he died I put away his belongings and have no desire to live in the past. Perhaps my big mistake was marrying a man whose wife died less than a year ago.

I seldom refer to my first husband although a good many things remind me of him. My present husband, however, talks about his first wife constantly. Please tell me how to handle this delicate situation.

—SECOND VIOLIN

DEAR SECOND VIOLIN: Make no mention of the picture, card or framed notice on the bedroom wall. When he speaks of his wife, be pleasant and sympathetic.

As time goes on and you have more experiences in common, there will be fewer references to the past—assuming, of course, you don't make the present so uncomfortable that he must flee to his memories for comfort.

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

In Memoriam

In memory of Thomas W. Gray, who passed away October 31, 1959. He had a nature you could not help loving. And a heart that was purer than gold. And to those who knew him and loved him. His memory will never grow cold. CLEONA GRAY McILLAN and family.

In loving memory of my beloved father, Thomas W. Gray, who died 2 years ago, Oct. 31, 1957. Your gentle face and patient smile. With sadness we recall. You had a gentle smile for each. And died beloved by all. The voice is mute and stilled the heart. That loved us well and true. Ah, bitter was the trail to part. From one as good as you. No one is not forgotten, loved one. No one will you ever be. As long as life and memory last. We will remember thee. We miss you now, our hearts are sore. As time goes by, we miss you more. Your loving smile, your gentle face. No one can fill your vacant place. Your son, CARL, and your 3 grandchildren, SUZAN, THOMAS AND FELICIA.

Hardy County Child Killed In Collision

Several Others Hurt In Crash Near Wardsville

Five-year-old Nancy Dolly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Dolly of near Wardsville, W. Va. died of injuries sustained last night in a two-car accident about a mile and a half north of that community on Route 259.

Her six-year-old sister, Linda, was taken to Winchester (Va.) Memorial Hospital in "critical" condition. Several other children in the family were also reported injured.

Mr. Dolly also was reported injured and was taken to the hospital. The mother was not in the car at the time of the accident. She is employed at Winchester and was working last night.

The identification of the persons in the other car was not learned last night and it was reported one of the occupants of the car was injured "rather seriously."

The accident occurred about 9 p. m. Trooper Jack Baker, stationed at Moorefield, is investigating.

County To Sell Unused School In Westernport

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners will accept bids until 10:30 a. m. Tuesday, November 17, for the old Hammond Street School in Westernport, which has been abandoned for more than a year.

Last week, Supervisor of Assessments Somerville Nicholson said it would cost $450,000 to $500,000 to replace the Westernport building at today's prices. However, he said that it was 50 per cent depreciated and 30 per cent obsolete but still has a use value of about $85,000. The building has 10,813 square feet of floor space.

The same day, Mr. Nicholson estimated the value of the old Luke School at $40,000. The Mayor and Council of Luke yesterday submitted a bid of $12,050, which was accepted. On that basis, the Hammond Street School should bring about $25,000.

Local Man Wins Top Scottish Rite Honors

Jean N. Bourckel, retired Baltimore and Ohio Railroad yardmaster, received the top Scottish Rite honor at ceremonies in Washington recently.

Mr. Bourckel, who lives at 127 Oak Street here, was awarded the honorary 33d degree on October 23 at the Biennial Session of the Supreme Council of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Free Masonry.

It is the highest honor which can be conferred by the Scottish Rite.

Born in Luxembourg, he came to the United States when he was 21 and for some time worked in silver and copper mines in the west.

He came to Cumberland in November 1911 and began working on the B&O Railroad here, retiring in 1950.

Mr. Bourckel became a Master Mason in Cumberland in 1915 and joined local Scottish Rite bodies in 1916.

He served as venerable master of the Lodge of Perfection, west master of Chapter Rose Croix and was commander of the Council of Kadosh.

The local man was made Knight Commander of the Court of Honor of the Supreme Council in 1951.

Rabies Control Plan Adopted By Health Unit

Procedure Will Speed Diagnosis

The diagnosis of animals suspected of having rabies will be speeded up under a new procedure adopted by the Allegany County Health Department.

It said that if an animal which has bitten or attacked a person dies or is killed, the body should be taken immediately to Dr. C. N. Foose, LaVale veterinarian.

He has volunteered to take charge of decapitating the animal and to see that the remains, especially the brain, are sent promptly to the Agricultural Livestock Laboratory in Hagerstown, where facilities are available for diagnosing rabies.

Here is the part the Health Department will take in the control of dog bites and rabies, according to Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer:

Facts Are Needed

When a dog or other animal, subject to rabies or suspected of having rabies, has bitten or attacked a person, the facts must immediately be reported to the county health officer.

The animal must not be killed but shall be confined in a way and for a time directed by the health officer, usually for from 10 to 14 days, for observation. If any strange behavior of the animal is noted, facts should be reported to the veterinarian in charge at once.

The confinement may be terminated only with the consent of the health officer or the veterinarian in charge of the animal and will be at the expense of the owner or custodian of the animal.

If such an animal dies or has been killed, its body should be taken to the LaVale veterinarian. Care should be taken that no damage has been done to the brain cells, and the name of the person bitten, and the part of the body affected should be reported.

Was Smelly Affair

In case of a dog bite or an attack by any rabid animal, two vaccines are available at the Health Department.

In case the dog or animal which has bitten a person cannot be found, the case will usually be treated as a rabies case.

Officials said only one case of a rabid animal has been discovered this year in Allegany County.

It was a skunk, according to J. B. Dowling, chief sanitarian, which fortunately had not bitten anyone.

Diagnosis turned into a smelly affair, officials said, when the head of the "woods pussy" was brought here and placed in the refrigerator of the Branch Health Department Laboratory.

Rights-Of-Way For Drive Obtained

Harry T. Skelly, Allegany County roads supervisor, yesterday received the necessary right-of-way forms from the property owners on Ioka Drive. This is a preliminary step, which is necessary before the street can be accepted into the county road system.

Meanwhile, the county commissioners received a letter of thanks from Mrs. Cecil Moore of Barton for repairs made to Potomac Hollow at Barton. "Due to illness and an operation, I have been unable to tell you how much it was really appreciated by the people up here, especially my family," she wrote.

Equity Suits Filed

Two County High Schools To Test Safety Vehicle

Students at Allegany and Mt. Savage High Schools will be given the opportunity Monday to see and drive a demonstration car designed to promote safety on the highways.

Dr. W. Ardell Haines, principal of Allegany High School, and J. Hubert Radcliffe, principal at Mt. Savage High School, said the event will be in the nature of a test-demonstration, designed to disprove the old notion that a car can be "stopped on a dime."

Boy Hurt In Bike Mishap

An eight-year-old Flintstone boy who fell from his bicycle earlier this week, was reported to be in "critical" condition last night at Memorial Hospital.

David Kyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kyle, was reported to have fallen from his bicycle in Flintstone on Tuesday about 4:30 p. m.

Mrs. R. J. Reuschlein, 308 Decatur Street, the lad's grandmother, said the boy had been taken to the local hospital after he fell from the bicycle.

He apparently was getting along well, and was discharged. On Thursday evening the boy became sick, his grandmother said. He was quite ill yesterday morning and was re-admitted to the hospital.

The boy is reported suffering from a brain injury.

Light & Decker Buys Old PE Car Barn Site

Motor Truck Firm To Move Quarters

A deed transferring title to Potomac Edison Company property on North Centre Street to the Light and Decker Company was filed for record yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court.

The deed was dated October 20 and provided for the sale of three parcels of property at 325-407 North Centre Street.

Stamps attached to the deed indicated a consideration of $75,000.

The company several months ago secured an option on the properties which includes the old Potomac Edison Company car barn, a boiler room, repair shop and an office building at 325-327, 401 and 407 North Centre Street.

The motor truck and farm equipment firm is now located at 315 South Centre Street, and plans to move its dealership to the new location when a remodeling program which began some weeks ago is completed.

Officials of the firm pointed out the new quarters will allow it to enlarge its facilities.

The motor firm also acquired the adjoining Langer store property in connection with the expansion move.

The car barn and adjoining properties have been vacant since the Potomac Edison Company opened its modern service center here last year.

Ruling Is Made In Man's Death

Pennsylvania authorities said last night that the death of Robert Steward Margraf, 30, who was found dead at his home near Hyndman Thursday night, was an apparent suicide.

The authorities believe the gunshot wound in the stomach was self-inflicted. The shooting, they said, occurred about 9:30 p. m. An autopsy was performed at the Ziegler Funeral Home in Hyndman.

A service will be conducted at the funeral home tomorrow at 2 p. m. with Rev. Willard M. White officiating. Interment will be in the Hyndman Cemetery.

Cinder Barrels Appear On Streets

Cinder barrels, one of the sure signs of impending winter, have been placed on city streets by Street Department crews.

The barrels are spotted on hilly streets, generally in places where experience shows motorists may have difficulty when snow and ice appear.

The barrels have been filled with a mixture of cinders and calcium chloride and are equipped with short-handled shovels so motorists can help themselves in emergencies.

Supplies of salt have also been placed in salt boxes at railroad crossings and bridges.

Court Reform Plans Studied By Legislators

Redistricting And Expansion Weighed

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Proposals to expand the Court of Appeals from 5 to 7 judges and make appeals more practical at the Circuit Court level were taken under consideration Friday by a special legislative committee.

Sen. Edward O. Weant (D-Carroll), committee chairman, said the group will act on them at its next meeting in Baltimore Nov. 18.

There were indications that the committee will recommend the court expansion to the Legislative Council. Some members also looked with favor on the proposed changes in the State Constitution to permit easier "en banc" appeals, which permit taking a Circuit Court decision to a group of Circuit Court judges.

William J. McWilliams, a former circuit judge in Annapolis, outlined the plan backed by a majority of State Bar Assn. members to add two more judges to Maryland's highest court and redistrict some of the present appellate circuits.

Walsh Plan Favored

In the form he submitted it, new judges would be chosen from an appellate circuit made up of Prince Georges, Calvert, Charles, St. Marys counties and another made up of Anne Arundel, Carroll and Howard counties.

McWilliams said the redistricting proposal, based on population as well as geographical location, was worked out by William C. Walsh of Cumberland, former attorney general and former judge of the Court of Appeals. He said the bar association study committee is "not wedded to it" but believes it will form a good "jumping off point" for the Legislature to work out a redistricting on its own. The important thing is to get two more judges, he said.

The nine Eastern Shore counties, with a population of 250,000, would continue to form the First Appellate Circuit and be represented by one judge.

There would be two judges from Baltimore City, which has a population of around 900,000 who would form the Sixth Circuit.

One From This District

Baltimore and Harford counties, with a population of 536,000, would continue to be represented by one judge. There would also be one from the Third Circuit consisting of Allegany, Garrett, Montgomery, Frederick, and Washington counties with a total population of 600,000.

The proposal, which would be a constitutional amendment subject to ratification by the voters, is designed to relieve the workload of individual judges on the present five-member Court of Appeals.

It provides that five judges would sit at one time with the other two free to write opinions or handle other matters of law. The court would call all seven judges on the bench in special cases where it considered a full court advisable.

Court Likes Proposal

The committee was told the seven-member plan is "unanimously acceptable" to the high court judges.

Del. Charles McC. Mathias Jr. (R-Frederick) said if the committee is going to act on appeals, it should make them easier at the Circuit Court level.

He proposed changes in the 92-year-old provision in the Maryland Constitution which permits a party in lower court to appeal to a court "en banc"—made up of the other judges from that district.

Sen. H. Winslow Wheatley Jr. (D-Prince Georges) endorsed the proposal which committee members invited Mathias to submit in the form of an amendment.

Among other members attending the session was Sen. Charles M. See (R-Allegany).

Bedford Co. Boy 'Fair' With Polio

Raymond Ranker, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ranker, RFD, Buffalo Mills, Pa., was reported in "fair" condition last night at Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital, Johnstown, Pa., where he is a patient with poliomyelitis.

The boy, who is a student at Hyndman Intermediate School, is the ninth person to be stricken with polio during 1959 in Bedford County.

Young Ranker showed first signs of the illness on October 14 and a Hyndman physician diagnosed the case as "presumptive polio."

The physician ordered the youth to the Johnstown hospital, where tests showed he had polio. He developed paralysis of the right arm and is now in the isolation ward.

The Hyndman physician indicated Ranker had received two Salk anti-polio vaccinations at school in 1955.

City To Discuss Widening Of Franklin Street

Conference Set Monday At 11 A.M.

The Mayor and Council will meet Monday with representatives of four North End business firms to discuss a proposal for widening Franklin Street.

The meeting will be held in the office of Mayor J. Edwin Keech at 11 a. m. following the regular Council meeting.

It was requested by C. A. Brotemarkle, president of the Cumberland Brewing Company; Norman Kline, president of Kline's Market; F. A. Bennett, president of Bennett Transfer and Storage, and Lewis J. Ort, president of Ort's Bakery.

The firms submitted a formal request for the widening of the street between Mechanic and Centre streets on October 12.

The city was also asked to take steps to acquire property needed for widening the 12-foot-wide street. Petitioners said its narrowness was a hazard to drivers as well as pedestrians.

Current estimates of construction costs are about $11,000. This calls for improving the 156-foot-long connecting street with a 30-foot concrete pavement and a four-foot sidewalk on the north side.

Right of way costs would range between $11,000 and $15,000, according to an appraisal made for the city in 1952.

The project has been in the planning stage for years and was one of the street improvement projects considered in connection with the $350,000 Urban Development Bond Issue of 1953, most of which went to pay the city's share of the Frederick Street improvement project.

Silt Conference Is Planned By River Group

A Metropolitan Silt Conference, the first of its kind, will be held in Washington, D. C., November 24 under the sponsorship of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin.

The conference will be held in the Hotel Washington and will begin at 9:45 a. m.

Speakers will include Donald A. Williams, administrator of the Soil Conservation Service and General A. C. Welling, engineer commissioner of the District of Columbia.

Silt pollution, the commission said, has become a serious and increasing threat to the well being of the Potomac River in Washington, the commission said.

It said that Dr. Abel Wolman, in a 1957 report to the commission, said that "for people living in the Washington area, silt is the worst pollutant of the Potomac River."

The commission added that while large quantities of silt move into the Potomac estuary from upstream, a major share originates in the metropolitan area itself. The chief sources of urban siltation, it added, are from highway construction and residential developments.

Young Driver In Fatal Crash Is Committed

Sowers Youth Sent To Training School

Dewayne C. Sowers, 15, of 933 Glenwood Street, the driver of a stolen jeep which overturned Tuesday night killing a 12-year-old local boy, was ordered committed to the Maryland Training School for Boys yesterday.

Magistrate Louis A. Fatkin of Juvenile Court found the Sowers youth guilty of being a delinquent, but withheld a decision in the case of Robert W. Nixon, 12, of 927 Gay Street, who was a passenger in the stolen vehicle.

Magistrate Fatkin said he will make a decision in the Nixon boy's case Wednesday.

The two boys were given hearings yesterday in Juvenile Court in connection with an accident in which John P. Oster, 12, of 27 Browning Street, was crushed to death.

Police said the three boys stole the jeep Tuesday at 7 p. m. from Allan D. Miller, 940 Gay Street, and the vehicle was wrecked about three hours later on Williams Road about five miles east of Cumberland.

The jeep with the three boys in it was traveling down Irons Mountain when they failed to negotiate a curve. The vehicle flipped over, tossing the three boys to the ground.

Sowers and Nixon were thrown clear, but the Oster boy was fatally injured when the jeep rolled on top of him.

The case for the state yesterday was presented by Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney.

Marriage Drop Is Blamed On Steel Strike

It may seem a little far-fetched, but Court House attaches have an idea there is a direct relationship between the October slump in the issuance of marriage licenses in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, and the steel strike.

During October only 191 marriage licenses have been issued by Mrs. Phyllis Scarlett, marriage license clerk. That is 18 per cent below the 233 issued in October 1958.

In the first 10 months of 1959 there have been 2,204 marriage licenses issued at the Court House here. Last year, the 10-month total was 2,260. The 1959 total is a decline of two-and-one-half per cent from a year ago. That shows pretty conclusively that most of the difference in the two years can be attributed to the October decline.

Generally, about 60 to 65 per cent of those who obtain marriage licenses at the Court House here come from Pennsylvania. Many of them come from the Pittsburgh area and many are steelworkers. Idle for more than 100 days as a result of the steel strike, many a young steelworker probably would think this is no time for wedlock.

Only January and March of this year had fewer marriage licenses.

The monthly totals, with the 1958 figure listed first in each case:

January—180 and 180; February—127 and 201; March—198 and 189; April—237 and 215; May—203 and 198; June—330 and 266; July—250 and 294; August—274 and 264; September—228 and 206, and October—233 and 191.

Man, 65, Dies Of Gun Wound

Herbert F. Martin, 65, of 43 Maryland Street, Keyser, W. Va., died yesterday evening in Potomac Valley Hospital there, where he was admitted Thursday morning with a .22 calibre rifle bullet wound.

Mr. Martin was taken to the hospital after he apparently shot himself in the mouth in the garage at his home.

A native of Martin, W. Va., he was a son of the late Columbus and Marion (George) Martin.

Mr. Martin was a carman for the B&O Railroad and was a member of Keyser Church of the Brethren.
